■ ABOUT PBC-2026

Biotechnology Conference (PBC-2026) stands as a leading forum for pharmaceutical professionals, researchers, and industry innovators from across the globe. This event focuses on driving advancements in novel therapeutic strategies, regulatory reforms, and breakthrough technologies in drug development. Acting as a knowledge-sharing platform, the summit will delve into critical areas such as drug discovery, personalized medicine, clinical trials, and pharmaceutical technology. Key challenges facing the industry today, including drug affordability, global supply chain complexities, and regulatory barriers, will also be addressed.

This two-day event features presentations, workshops, and discussions with leading experts in pharmaceutical sciences, offering participants insights into the industry's current trends and future directions, while promoting collaboration and innovation.
